Lost? Hungry? Want a Souvenir?

Lost
If you need assistance, students are available throughout the College. Look for students in brightly colored volunteer shirts.

Food
Cowboyz BBQ and Kona Ice is available for sale from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the front of the UF Small Animal Hospital, while supplies last.

Merchandise
Visit the UF College of Veterinary Medicine’s courtyard and indoor club exhibit areas for games, merchandise and learning opportunities! Souvenirs for kids and adults are available for sale and the Purina teddy bear clinic will be at the Small Animal Hospital Atrium.

UF College of Veterinary Medicine Facts
- The College opened in 1976 and the first class graduated in 1980.
- There are four classes of veterinary students; each class has more than 100 students.
- Last year, the UF Small Animal Hospital saw more than 30,300 cases and the UF Large Animal Hospital saw more than 2,800 cases in-house and more than 30,600 herd animals last year.
- Cancer is the most frequent case treated in the UF Small Animal Hospital and colic is the most frequently treated condition in the UF Large Animal Hospital.
- The UF College of Veterinary Medicine partners with the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (UF IFAS) and UF Health, which are dedicated to advancing animal, human and environmental health through teaching, research, extension and patient care.

Special Thanks
UF Veterinary Hospitals, Alachua County Sheriff’s Office, Gainesville Police Department, Gentle Carousel Miniature Therapy Horses, Gainesville Rabbit Rescue, Agilemaniacs, Canine Companions for Independence

Coordinators
Student Open House Committee
Brittany Martabano, 2016 Class President, Jordan Behrens, Cameron Biggs, Stella Blum, Stephanie Bowes, Ben Brunson, Christina McCrea, Matt Hampton, Janna Legg, Julie London, Kristi Rhodes

UF College of Veterinary Medicine Support
Dr. Jim Lloyd, Dean, Dr. Pam Ginn, Associate Dean for Students & Instruction, Dr. Dana Zimmel, UF Veterinary Hospitals Chief of Staff, Rosa Blaine, Sarah Carey, Rachel DiSesa, David John, Mary Miller, Jo Ann Winn

Our Sponsors
Alachua County Sheriff’s Office, Gentle Carousel Miniature Therapy Horses, Gainesville Rabbit Rescue, Agilemaniacs, Canine Companions for Independence
The UF Veterinary Hospitals, the clinical arm of the UF College of Veterinary Medicine, opened its doors in 1978. Since that time, both our Small Animal Hospital and our Large Animal Hospital have provided referral services, consultations, emergency veterinary services and 24-hour care for companion animals, horses and other large animals, livestock, exotic pets and wildlife, including many endangered species.

The UF Small Animal Hospital is certified as a Level 1 Veterinary Emergency and Critical Care facility by VECCS, the only emergency room in Florida to receive such a designation. This status recognizes the UF Small Animal Hospital for its specialty services and equipment as well as the highly trained personnel available around the clock.

At the UF Veterinary Hospitals, we continue advancing the science of veterinary medicine, teaching the veterinarians of tomorrow.